IRISH ST. PATRICK'S DAY

ROMANTIC LIFE OF THE POPULAR SAINT.

Drove the Snakes Out of Ireland and Performed Many Miracles. Once in Slavery.

Today, the 17th of March, is St. Patrick's Day, and everybody in Greenville is Irish on this day, as will be evidenced by the green ties and the shamrock to be seen on the aprons of coats, on ladies' corsages and other prominent places.

The best information given of St. Patrick, that he was a great preacher and missionary, whose life was full of romance and adventure. He was peculiarly loved and his memory is especially revered by the Irish and today he is perhaps the most popular, patron saint of that people. He is credited, among other things, with having driven all of the snakes out of Erin. The events he passed through from birth to death, according to history and tradition, were strange and more fantastic than fall to the lot of most. He was born about the year 372, but the exact place of his birth is not known, four countries claiming him—Scotland, England, France and Wales, but the best evidence seems to indicate that he was born in the town of Kilpatrick, Scotland. In his youth, at the age of about sixteen, he was stolen by pirates and sold into slavery. At first he was a shepherd, but escaped and went to Europe after seven years of servitude.

Here he took up religious studies and was successfully deacon, priest and bishop. By the Pope he was returned to Ireland to preach to the Irish. He met and overcame many obstacles in this country, and many pretty legends exist of the manner in which he did things when caught in a tight place, but the greatest of these was the manner in which he rid Ireland of all serpents, and it is for this that he is remembered and honored by all Irish everywhere. He died at Saul on March 17th, 459, at the age of 121 years, and the day of his death is the one which the world calls St. Patrick's Day, and celebrates with festivals and parades.

The shamrock, which is so intimately connected with St. Patrick, was made use of by him in his sermons to illustrate the Trinity. He showed how there might be three individuals and still only one by pointing out its three leaves which nevertheless were joined into one spray. It is also worthy of note that even in very ancient times it was believed that no snake would come near a place where a shamrock grew.

Put on the green today, be an Irishman for at least one day.

TEXAN WAS A SUCKER.

Tells How He Was Victimized by the Notorious Mabray Gang.

Council Bluffs, Ia., March 16.—How and Simpson, the government's star witness in the case of J. C. Mabray and associates, charged with swindling, was expected to take the stand today, and the court room was crowded with visitors in anticipation. Simpson shook hands with Mabray and his co-spectator some time with him in jail, where defendant is confined. They appeared to be on the best of terms. Simpson's testimony did not materially affect Mabray's interests in the present trial. Counsel for the government stated this morning the prosecution might conclude by Thursday.

An interesting witness today was T. E. George, of San Antonio, Texas, who said he was relieved of $35,000 in connection with a wrestling match at New Orleans, two years ago, in which one of the contestants apparently suffered a serious hemorrhage in the second bout. He named Joseph Wright, now under indictment but not yet arrested as the "friend" who led him into the affair.

TAFT HAS CLOSE CALL.

His Auto Comes Near Running Down a Woman—Leaves for West.

Washington, March 16.—President Taft left here today for Chicago over the Pennsylvania railroad. He is due there at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. From Chicago the president will "swing around the circle" to Rochester, Albany, New York, New Haven and Providence and will not be in Washington again until March 23. Shortly after leaving the White House on the way to the station the president had an extremely exciting moment. The White House automobile, while bearing him and his aide, Capt. Butt, narrowly escaped running down a woman. The heavy car was running at good speed crossing Fourteenth street on New York avenue, when a woman darted in front of the machine. Instantly the chauffeur applied the brakes, bringing the conveyance to a sudden stop.

The president, seeing the impending accident, was on his feet in an instant, and shouted a warning. The car then continued on its way and narrowly missed hitting a trolley car.

Gaines was convicted and given three years in the penitentiary for the murder of J. W. Reese. The tragedy occurred during the campaign of 1908 when Gaines and Reese were opposing candidates for the legislature from Comanche county. A. B. Stickney Says Country is Upon Stilts and Must Come Down.

St. Paul, Minn., March 16.—This country is upon stilts and until some things happen, such as a general strike, followed by a series of failures, conditions will not be right, is the opinion of A. B. Stickney, formerly president of the Chicago Great Western.

"Conditions are the same as they were just before the Delta strike in 1902," said Mr. Stickney. "I think it would be fair to give the railway employees an increase in wages, in view of the high cost of living, but the railroads on the other hand are unable to grant their demands because they cannot raise the rates."

Mr. Stickney blamed the high tariff or present prices.
